THE BANKING HALL

THE WESTIN
DUBLIN

What greater thing is there for two human souls, than to feel that they are joined for life...

George Eliot

*The Banking Hall at the Westin Dublin - an historic wedding venue in the heart of Dublin, the city you know and love;
a perfect place for you to start your journey together and to say 'I do' in style.*

Your magical day deserves a unique location, and the iconic 19th century Banking Hall in the heart of Dublin is the city's leading destination wedding venue. The stunning façade and private entrance on College Street, which overlooks Trinity College Dublin, sets the scene for a wonderful sense of arrival through a striking Georgian-style doorway.

A glimpse of the splendid grandeur of the Banking Hall is apparent to you and your guests on arrival through the entrance foyer and corridor. A scene befitting a real celebration, your family and friends can mingle underneath the lofty ceilings before enjoying arrival drinks and canapés in the Reserve.

The dramatic interior of the Banking Hall sets an inspiring scene for your wedding celebrations. The stately ornate ceiling adds to the splendour, as the four Waterford Crystal chandeliers, each with 8,000 individual crystals, cast a shimmer on your momentous day. Wedding parties range from 100 to 180 guests on round tables, while more intimate gatherings are also welcome.

Our skilful wedding planners are on hand to offer you expert tips and bespoke advice, and their insight helps make your day as unique to you as possible. Your sole point of contact from the initial days of searching and planning, to the culmination of your big day, your wedding planner will be with you at every step of your journey. So simply relax, enjoy, and let us take care of everything else.

The Banking Hall - your inspired wedding venue in which lasting memories are made.

Hosting your civil ceremony at the Westin Dublin is an additional and optional benefit of choosing the Banking Hall as your wedding destination. A splendid setting, the Banking Hall adds to the momentous occasion when you and your partner take your vows, witnessed by your nearest and dearest.

*The delicious and delectable food is fitting of both the occasion of your marriage and the Banking Hall setting.
Using the finest seasonal produce, our fine dining menus will be tailored to your specific tastes.*

Ranging from delicious canapés on arrival, to the main celebratory banqueting feast, inspiring wines and Champagnes are paired to impress even the most discerning taste buds.

Enjoy the opulence of the Presidential Suite on the night of your wedding. At 166 square metres and boasting a series of balconies, your private steam room and much more, there is no finer suite in which to spend your wedding night. Savour Champagne breakfast here the following morning, or invite friends and family to your private lounge. Take some memorable photographs of the city from one of your private balconies, so you can reminisce together in years to come.

Westling in 19th century buildings and transformed in 2001 into the Westin Dublin, the hotel combines the best of Irish hospitality with international five star standards. Comprising 172 guestrooms and suites, each with a signature Westin Heavenly Bed®, you and your guests can enjoy a luxury city centre stay.

Unique spaces such as the Atrium Lounge- an inner courtyard with a 5-storey glass roof, the atmospheric Mint Bar – located in the old bank vaults, or Morelands Grill –an urban grill overlooking Westmoreland Street, all create additional backdrops which can all be enjoyed by you and your wedding guests.

There is only one happiness in this life, to love and be loved.
